

Chemical Engineer

Chemical engineers are responsible for designing and developing chemical processes and equipment that can transform raw materials into useful products. In the forest products industry, chemical engineers are employed in pulp and paper mills to closely collaborate with technical and operations personnel to monitor and optimize processes.

Other job titles include: Process Control Engineer, Project Engineer, Development Engineer, Engineering Scientist.

Education & Training

Most of these occupations require a four-year bachelor's degree, but some do not.

Salary

National Average Salary
$78,520- $182,150

National Average Hourly
$37.75 - $87.57

This job may be right for you if your interests include: investigative & realistic.

This job may be right for you if your skills include: science, complex problem solving & mathematics.

This job may be right for you if your values include: recognition, achievement & independence.