

Government Forester

Government foresters are employed by State and Federal governments to manage forests on public lands such as National Forests, State Parks, military bases, and other agency lands throughout the U.S. They typically work alongside other natural resource professionals to protect and preserve state and federal resources such as water, wildlife, recreation, and tourism.

Other job titles include: Unit Forester, Regional Forester, State Forester.

Education & Training

Most of these occupations require a four-year bachelor's degree. A considerable amount of work-related skill, knowledge & experience is needed.

Salary

National Average Salary

$49,240 - $103,220

National Average Hourly

$23.68 - $49.62

This job may be right for you if your interests include: realistic, investigative & enterprising.

This job may be right for you if your skills include: monitoring & judgement and decision making.

This job may be right for you if your values include: independence, working conditions & achievement.