

Urban Forester

An urban forester specializes in the care and management of tree populations in urban settings for the purpose of improving the urban environment. Urban forestry advocates the role of trees as a critical part of the urban infrastructure. A specialty in urban forestry often includes skills in landscape drafting, land surveying, silviculture and urban forest management, along with planning and design, horticulture and business management.

Other job titles include: Urban & Community Forestry Program Director, Urban Forestry Technician, Distribution Utility Forester, Arborist.

Education & Training

A four-year degree in forestry or a related field is required. Strong interpersonal communication skills will be highly beneficial. Experience with computers and presentation skills are desirable.

This job may be right for you if your interests include: realistic, investigative & conventional.

This job may be right for you if your skills include: active listening, critical thinking & speaking.

This job may be right for you if your values include: independence, working conditions & achievement.

Salary

National Average Salary

$49,240- $103,220

National Hourly Wage

$23.68- $49.62

